STATEMENT OF PROBABLE CAUSE

Your complainant is a sergeant with the Plymouth Police Department. In that capacity, I have reviewed the police reports of Officers Andersen and Isaacson and believe the following facts to be true. Your complainant states that on October 25, 2026, at approximately 11:39 p.m., officers responded to the report of a domestic assault at 3920 Zanzibar Lane in the City of Plymouth, Hennepin County, Minnesota. The reporting party advised dispatch that his sister struck him with a vacuum cleaner.

Upon arrival, Officer Andersen made contact with the reporting party, TAYLOR JACOB BOROWIEC, DOB: 07/21/1983, the defendant herein, who was standing outside. The defendant directed officers to the residence to speak to his sister, EAB, DOB: 10/16/1988. Officers were let inside the residence by LJB, who is the mother of the defendant and EAB.

LJB stated that the defendant had been in a difficult mood that day and had been drinking for several hours. The defendant turned his anger toward EAB and charged at her when she asked their mother if she needed to call the police. The defendant and LJB had been having a dispute at the time. EAB stated that she armed herself with a vacuum cleaner in self-defense, which the defendant pulled away from her. The defendant also shoved EAB.

The defendant claimed that EAB hit him with the vacuum cleaner, causing a mark on his head, and that she also hit him in the hand. Officer Andersen observed slight redness on the defendant's forehead, he said he sustained when the EAB held the vacuum cleaner up like a baseball bat and threw it at him.

EAB stated that she was upstairs in her bedroom when she heard a loud noise. When she came out of her bedroom, she saw the defendant yelling at LJB. When EAB asked LJB if she needed to call the police, the defendant ran up the stairs and charged at her while telling her that he was going to beat her. EAB stated that the defendant grabbed the vacuum with one hand and pulled it away from her, while pushing her with his other hand. EAB denied hitting the defendant with the vacuum and said she did not know why he had a mark on his head or said that something happened to his hand.

EAB stated that the defendant then went outside, and she went to check on her daughter in another room. When the defendant came back in, he ran to the room where EAB and her daughter were and pulled the door closed so EAB could not exit the room.

EAB started shaking and said that she was afraid of the defendant when he threatened and charged at her. EAB added that they live like this almost every night and that the defendant, who has assaulted her in the past, is mentally unwell and too sick to change. EAB cried multiple times while Officer Andersen was speaking to her.

Officer Andersen next spoke with LJB stated that the defendant wanted to use her vehicle to go help a friend with a finger injury, and she initially said no because he had been drinking. LJB eventually gave in and gave the defendant permission to use her vehicle. When LJB asked the defendant to put gas in her vehicle, he started yelling at her. When EAB came out of her room, the defendant charged up the stairs at her. LJB stated that the defendant was yelling at EAB and calling her names. LJB heard noise coming from upstairs but did not see what occurred between the defendant and EAB. LJB was just hoping that they weren't fist fighting.

A check of the defendant's criminal history reveals a conviction for a violation of Minnesota Statutes Section 609.224, or a similar law of another state, or an ordinance in conformity therewith on April 18, 2023 (Hennepin County Court File Number 27-CR-23-196).
